

How Six Organizations Partnered to Feed Chicago Families in Need

Sodexo, Sinai Health System, Move For Hunger, Nelson Westerberg, The Greater Chicago Food Depository, and the Sodexo Stop Hunger Foundation joined forces to bring thousands of meals ready to eat (MREs) to families at risk of hunger in Chicago.

$650,000

Worth of MREs donated by Sodexo Healthcare that were stored in Detroit, MI.

But how to get them from Detroit to Chicago?

That's when Nelson Westerberg and Move for Hunger joined the partnership. It took them...

Detroit

Chicago

2
trucks

6
trips

3+
days

139
pallets of MREs moved

200,000

The number of meals and snacks distributed by the Greater Chicago Food Depository through the Sinai Community Institute and its programs dedicated to community food banks and families at risk of hunger.

$100,000

Donated by the Sodexo Stop Hunger Foundation to the Greater Chicago Food Depository to boost their efforts.

