STMicroelectronics Enters the Dow Jones World and Europe Sustainability Indices

Geneva, September 24, 2018– STMicroelectronics (NYSE: STM), a global semiconductor leader serving customers across the spectrum of electronics applications, announced today that it has joined the Dow Jones Sustainability Indices (DJSI) World and Europe.

The DJSI Europe and World indices, jointly calculated by the Standard & Poor's Dow Jones¹ Indices and RobecoSAM², reward the most responsible companies in the world. STMicroelectronics, with a total score of 81 points out of 100, was ranked in the top ten percent of the global semiconductor companies that were invited to participate in the DJSI.

Jean-Marc Chery, STMicroelectronics President & CEO, commented: “Sustainability has been part of ST’s culture for over 25 years, and will continue to be a key driver for our sustainable profitable growth. This achievement acknowledges our long-standing commitment to conducting our business responsibly and recognizes our performance in many domains ranging from business ethics, innovation, and quality, to environment and labor practices.”

DJSI's ranking is based on an in-depth analysis of the economic stability, social and environmental performance of more than 2,000 international groups and the assessment of numerous criteria such as corporate governance, customer relations, environmental policy, working conditions and social initiatives, as well as an analysis of media coverage and stakeholders feedback.
