Schneider named a Top Company for Women to Work for in Transportation

The recognition promotes companies focused on employment of women in the trucking industry

GREEN BAY, Wisconsin – (October 29, 2021) – Schneider (NYSE: SNDR), a premier provider of transportation, intermodal and logistics services, is pleased to announce the company has been selected as a 2021 “Top Company for Women to Work for in Transportation” by Redefining the Road, the official magazine of the Women In Trucking Association (WIT).

“It is essential to ensure women feel supported in their career,” said Schneider Senior Vice President of Human Resources Angela Fish. “We are incredibly honored to receive recognition as a top company for women in transportation. Women continuously choose a career at Schneider and in transportation, and we are dedicated to seeing that number grow.”

Schneider has a proven track record of empowering women in the transportation industry, which is why the company has aligned with WIT. Schneider professional driver Kellylynn McLaughlin is WIT’s first-ever Driver Ambassador. In addition to hauling loads around the country, McLaughlin raises awareness and encourages more women to join the industry.

“I have the opportunity to share my passion for truck driving with those who may not be familiar with our industry, the lifestyle we live and the work we do,” said McLaughlin.

WIT recognized transportation companies for their efforts in the following:

- a corporate culture that fosters gender diversity.
- competitive compensation and benefits.
- flexible hours and work requirements.
- professional development opportunities and career advancement opportunities.
