Robert E. Dudley, Ph.D.
Chairman, Chief Executive Officer and President

Robert E. Dudley, Ph.D., has devoted his career to developing products that revolutionize healthcare for men. As the co-inventor of multiple formulations of testosterone replacement therapies, he is a leading voice in hypogonadism and men's health.

Driven by a mission to help men overcome the symptoms of hypogonadism, Dr. Dudley established Clarus Therapeutics, Inc. in 2004, and has served as Chief Executive Officer, President, and Chairman of the Board of Directors since its founding. Prior to founding Clarus Therapeutics, Dr. Dudley served as the President, Chief Executive Officer and Director of Anagen Therapeutics. He also held senior executive positions at Unimed Pharmaceuticals.

Dr. Dudley has more than 25 years of experience in the testosterone replacement therapy field. Most notably, he led the discovery, development, regulatory approval and launch of the first testosterone gel product, which became the market leader.

Dr. Dudley received his Bachelor of Science in biology from Pepperdine University, Seaver College, his Master of Science in biology from the University of New Mexico and his Ph.D., with honors, in Pharmacology and Toxicology from the University of Kansas School of Medicine. He is also a board-certified toxicologist.
