

BIOGRAPHY:

Retired Rear Admiral Heinrich

Advisory Board Member, SensorY Ai

Retired Rear Admiral Heinrich is a Founder and the Chief Executive Officer of Oakleaf Software Inc., a Veteran Owned small business that is focused on all aspects of supply chains from planning to execution. After learning about SensorY AI's mission and work with the Office of Naval Research, he joined the team as an investor, strategic advisor, and board member.

Rear Admiral Heinrich retired from the Navy in November 2013 after a naval career that spanned nearly 35 years of leadership in petroleum supply chaining, operations, finance, logistics, and supply chain management. In his final assignment in the Navy, he served as the Commander of the Naval Supply Systems Command and the 46th Chief of Supply Corps, where he led 25,000 military and civilian members of the Navy's global supply chain practice. Subsequent to retiring from the Navy, Admiral Heinrich became a General Manager at Microsoft for two years, where he led the supply chain and logistics effort which is building Microsoft's Intelligent Cloud.

Using his extensive naval experience, deep understanding of technological applications to solve complex problems, as well as his experience working to ensure the success of a new business entity, Admiral Heinrich will guide the team at SensorY AI and help to make real-time remote detection a reality.
