

(Figure 1 – TOMRA mechanical ore sorter at TOMRA Sorting Pty. Ltd.'s Castle Hill, New South Wales testing laboratory. This sorter employs XRT to identify rocks containing particles of high atomic mass such as gold and electromagnetic induction EM to identify rocks with a propensity to become electrically charged due, occasionally, to the presence of metallic particles.)