

(Figure 2: Examples of coarse gold nuggets found with metal detector at the newly discovered Road to Paradise target. This area was recognized as prospective during Novo's surficial geology study followed by target refinement using GPR. Novo is confident its exploration approach will be effective at finding new, coarse gold areas. These concentrated samples are of selected material and are not necessarily representative of mineralization hosted on the Egina property.)